Paul and Carole Love to Travel is your go-to blog for useful information, honest reviews, inspiration, and overall insight we wished we had the last 30 years traveling. Our travel experiences vary from mid to luxury hotel stays, cruising and exploring in our motorhome. We love to engage extensively with the travel community through our rapidly growing social media reach and blog readership.

We are Paul and Carole, a fun loving couple in our 50's who have been travelling extensively for the last 30 years. We are an easy going couple based in the UK, who really enjoy life and like to make the most out of opportunities.
